

THE BEST QUEST IN THE WEST

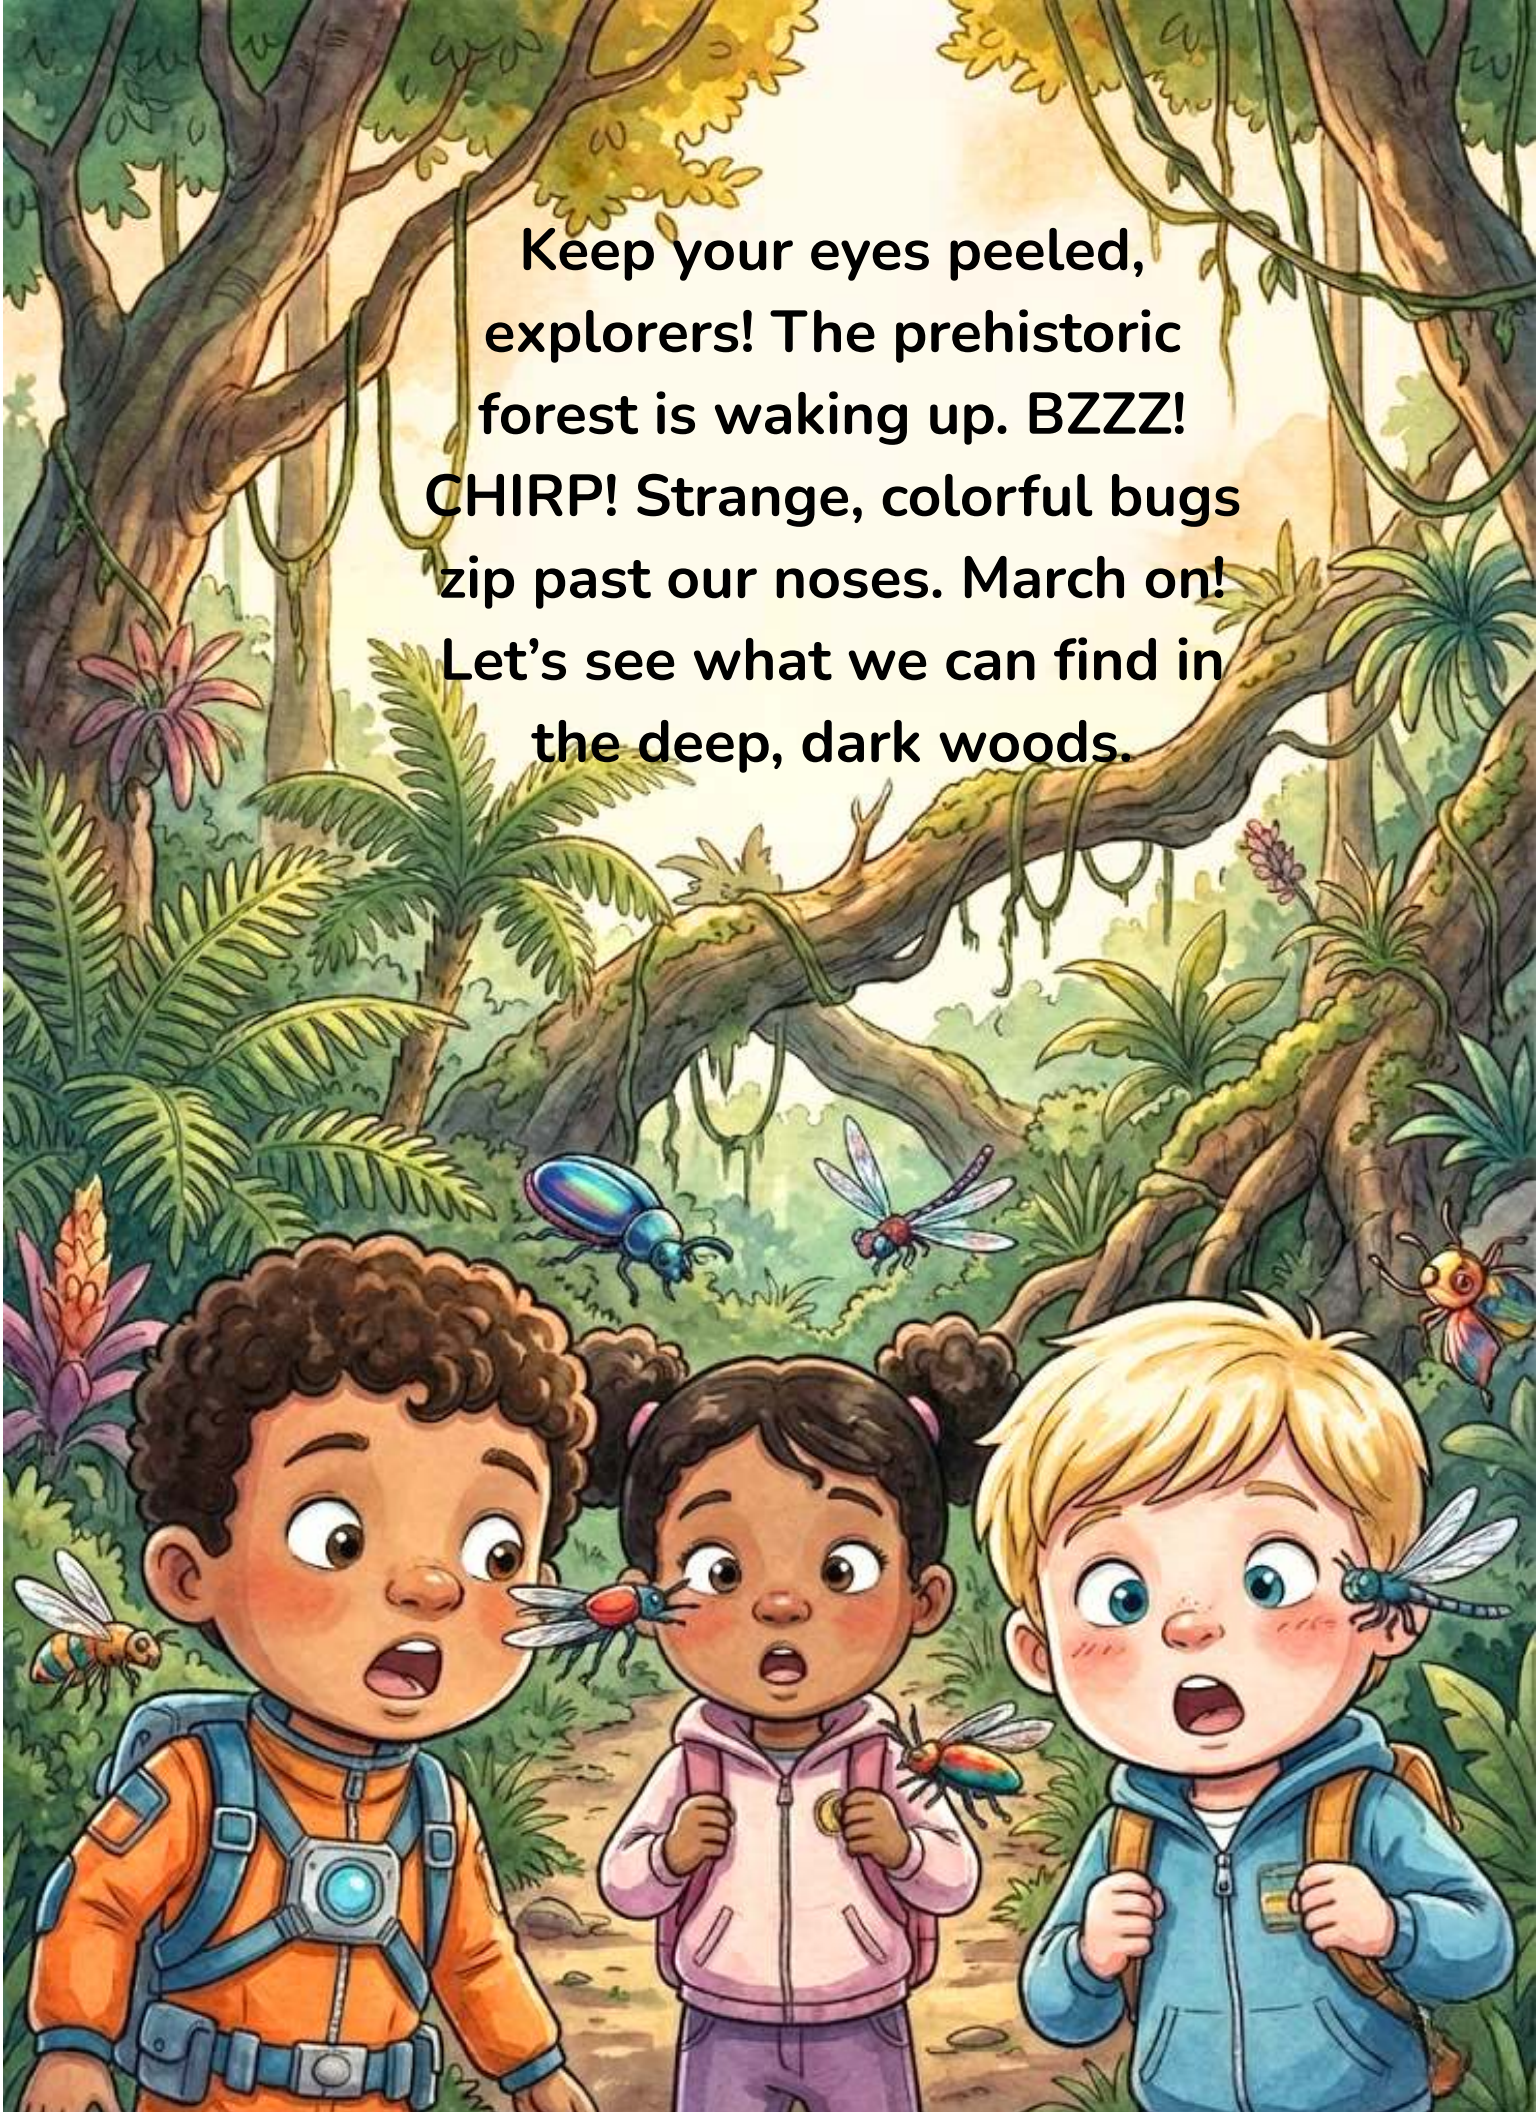

Expedition Log: Day One, Sunrise! Get your gear, team, there's no time to wait! Chief Explorer Matias is opening the Chrono-Gate. ZAP! ZOOOM! Hold onto your helmets, we're traveling back through time!

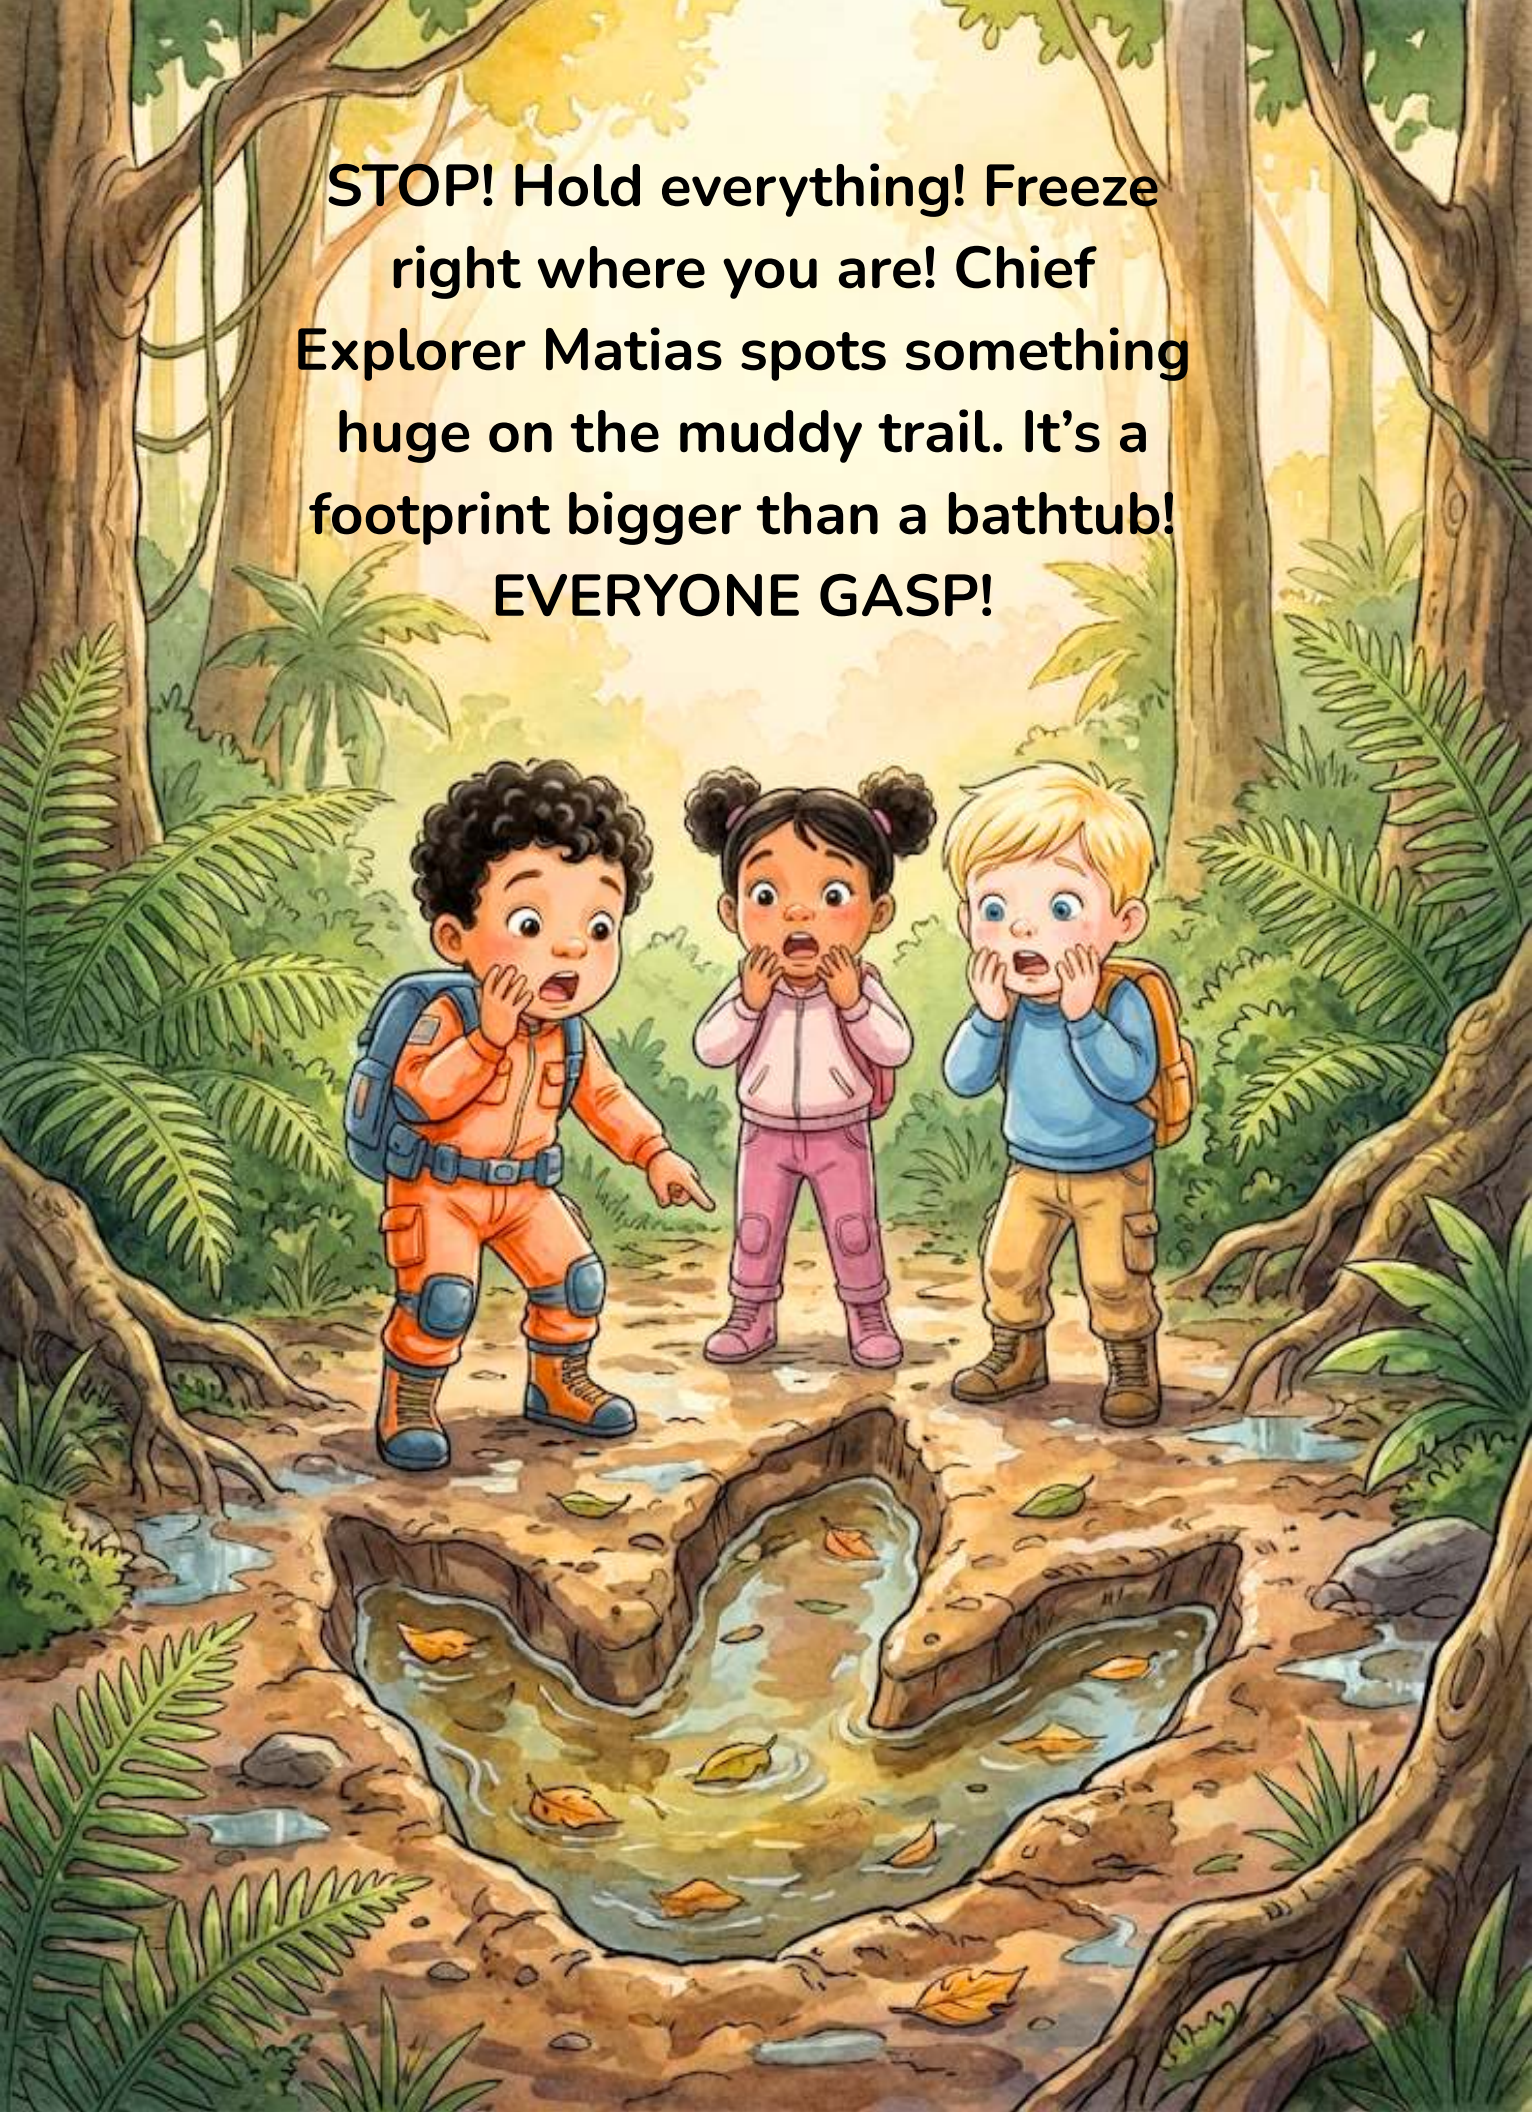

Log Entry: Landing successful! Whoa, look at this place! The air is super warm and the jungle is MEGA-green. Giant, leafy ferns go SWISH-SWISH as we push through the path.

Keep your eyes peeled, explorers! The prehistoric forest is waking up. BZZZ!
CHIRP! Strange, colorful bugs zip past our noses. March on!
Let's see what we can find in the deep, dark woods.

STOP! Hold everything! Freeze right where you are! Chief Explorer Matias spots something huge on the muddy trail. It's a footprint bigger than a bathtub!
EVERYONE GASP!

Get the measuring tape! It has three giant toes and sharp claw marks. THUMP-THUMP goes my heart in my chest.
This print belongs to a massive theropod dinosaur!

Follow that track! Tip-toe through the crunchy leaves. CRUNCH, CRUNCH. Shhh!
Be very, very quiet. Something enormous is moving behind those tall trees!

Log Update: RED ALERT! A gigantic Tyrannosaurus Rex steps out! It has bright red scales, opens its mouth, and lets out a ground-shaking sound...
ROOOOOOAAAAR! The trees are shaking!

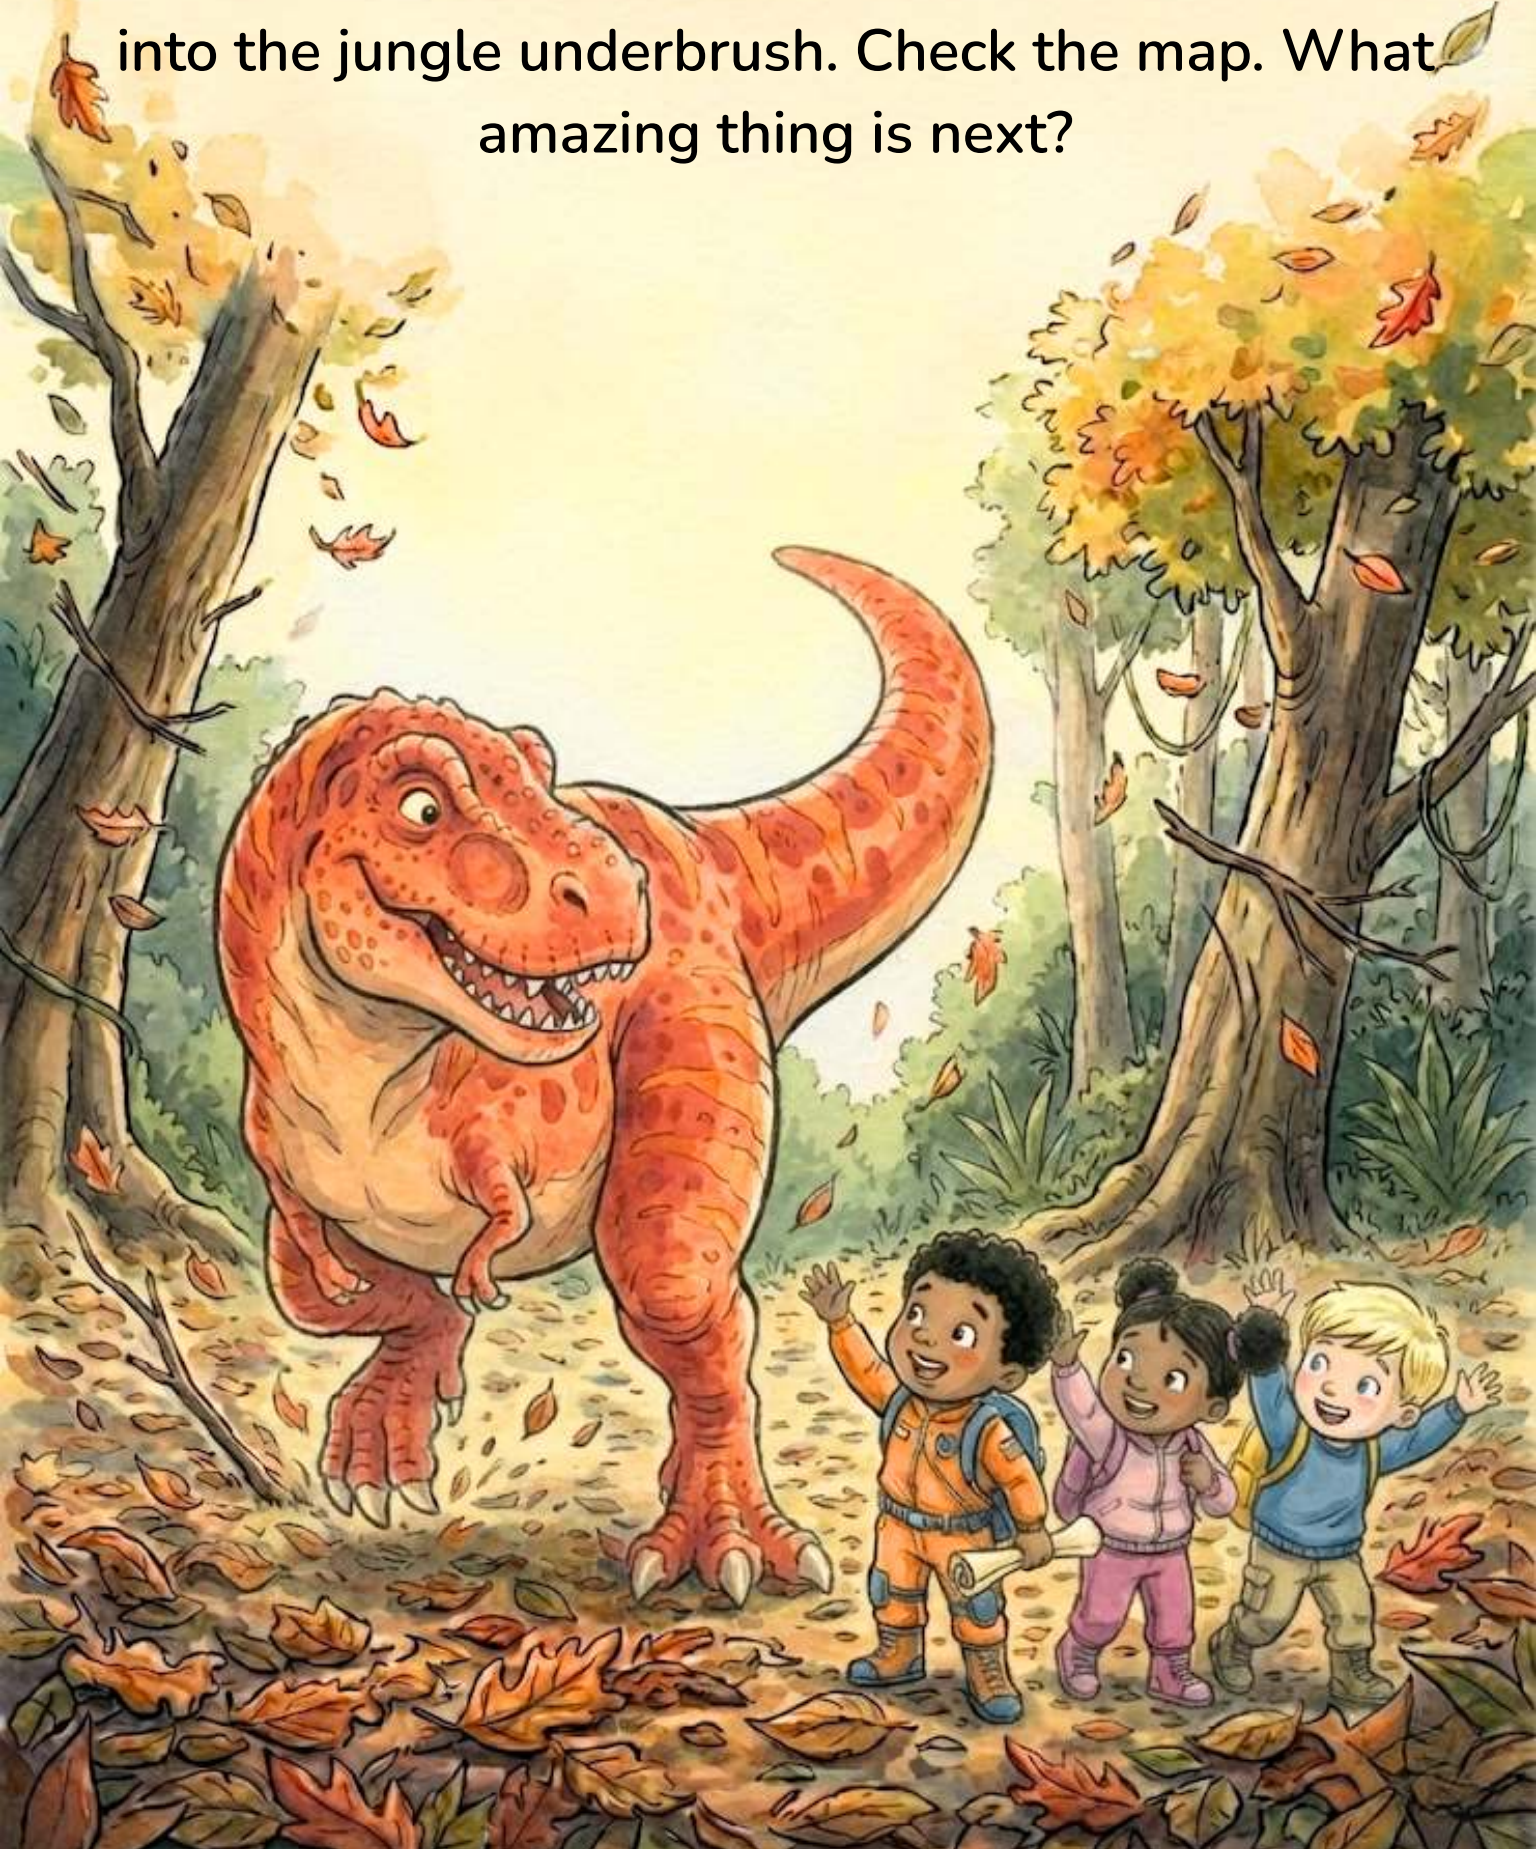

Wait a second... those aren't angry teeth, that's a goofy grin! This T-Rex isn't hunting us; it wants a belly rub! Awww, put down your nets, team. He's friendly!

Chief Explorer Matias is the bravest of them all!
They reach out a hand and pat the T-Rex's bumpy, green snout. The T-Rex lets out a happy SNORT and wags its giant tail like a puppy!

Time to move, explorers! We wave goodbye to our new buddy. STOMP, STOMP, CRASH he goes back into the jungle underbrush. Check the map. What amazing thing is next?

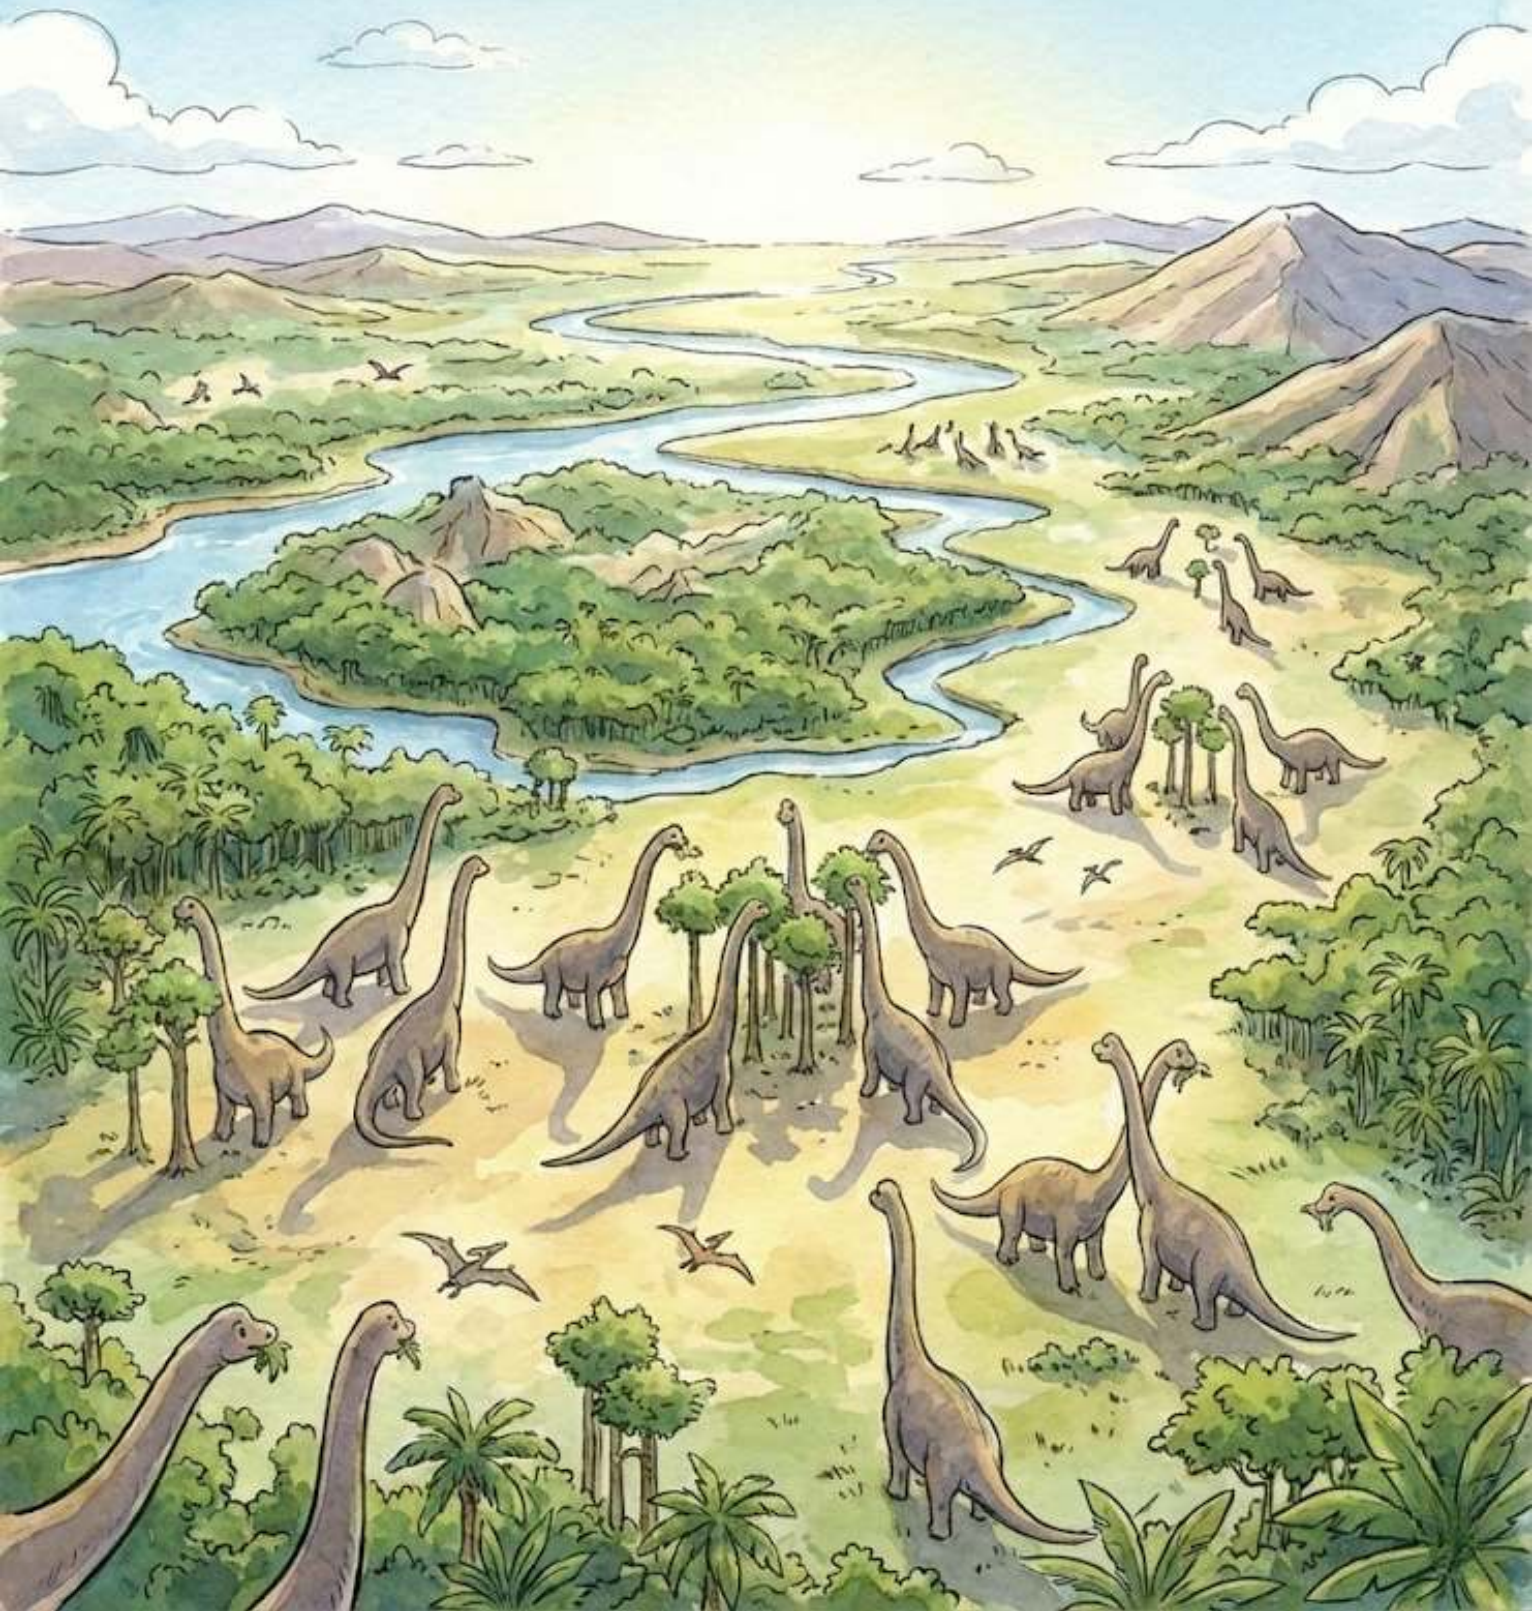

Look up! High above the treetops in the blue sky! Flapping leathery wings and pointy beaks circle the mountain. Pterodactyls are gliding on the wind! CAW-CAW!

Hold on tight! The Pterodactyls swoop down to offer us a ride! WHOOSH! We lift off the ground, higher and higher. Chief Explorer Matias is soaring above the clouds!

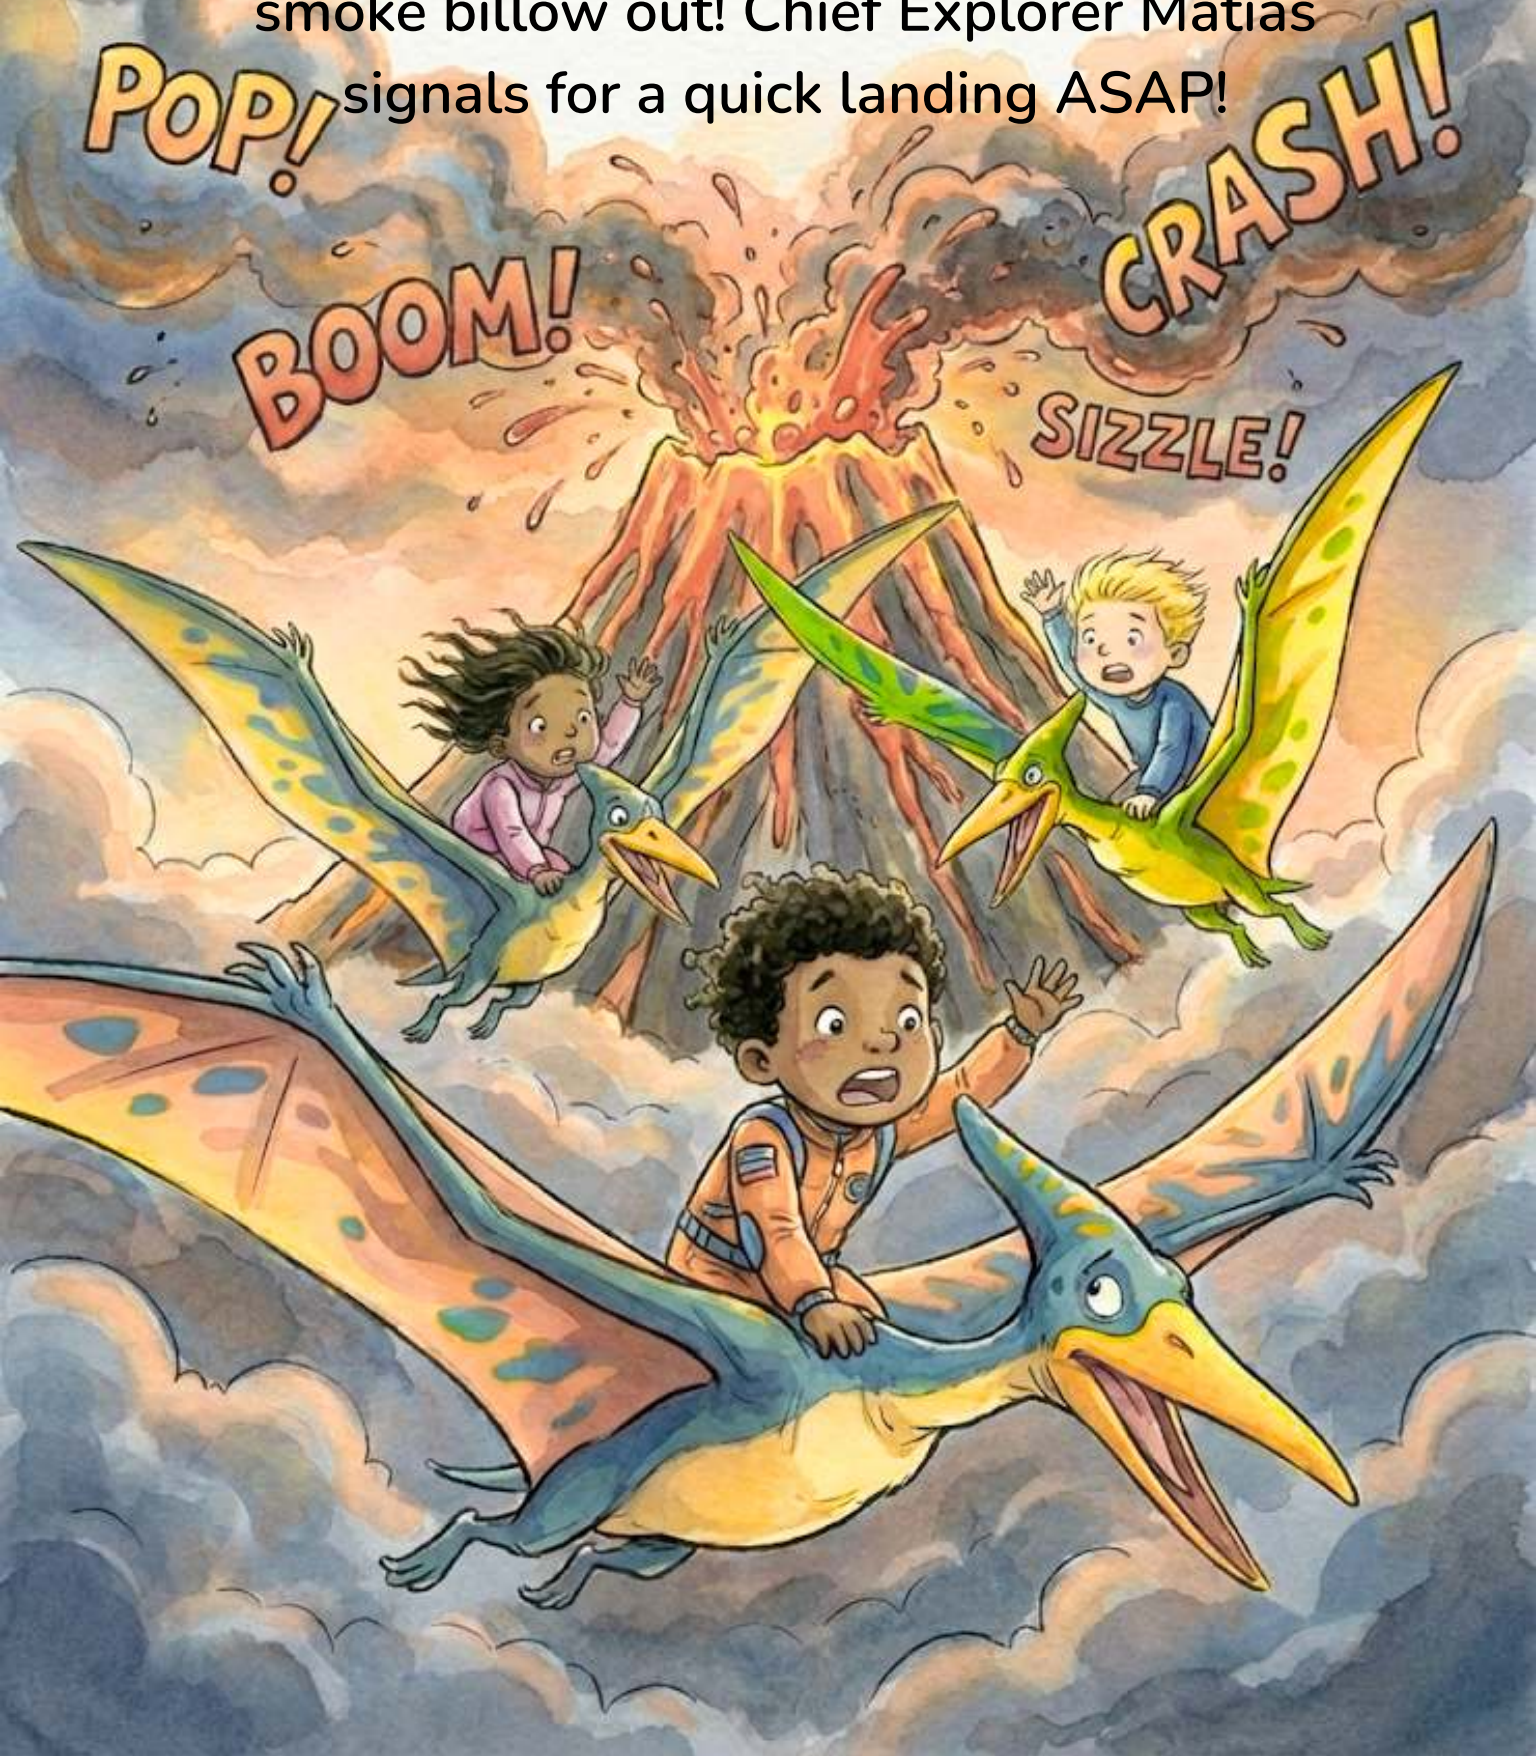

Log Entry from the sky: The view up here is incredible! We see herds of long-necked Brachiosaurus eating treetops far below. They look like tiny toys from up here! Munch, munch, munch!

UH-OH. The Pterodactyls are squawking nervously now. Up ahead, a giant, pointy mountain is starting to smoke. It's an active prehistoric volcano! RUMBLE-GRUMBLE!

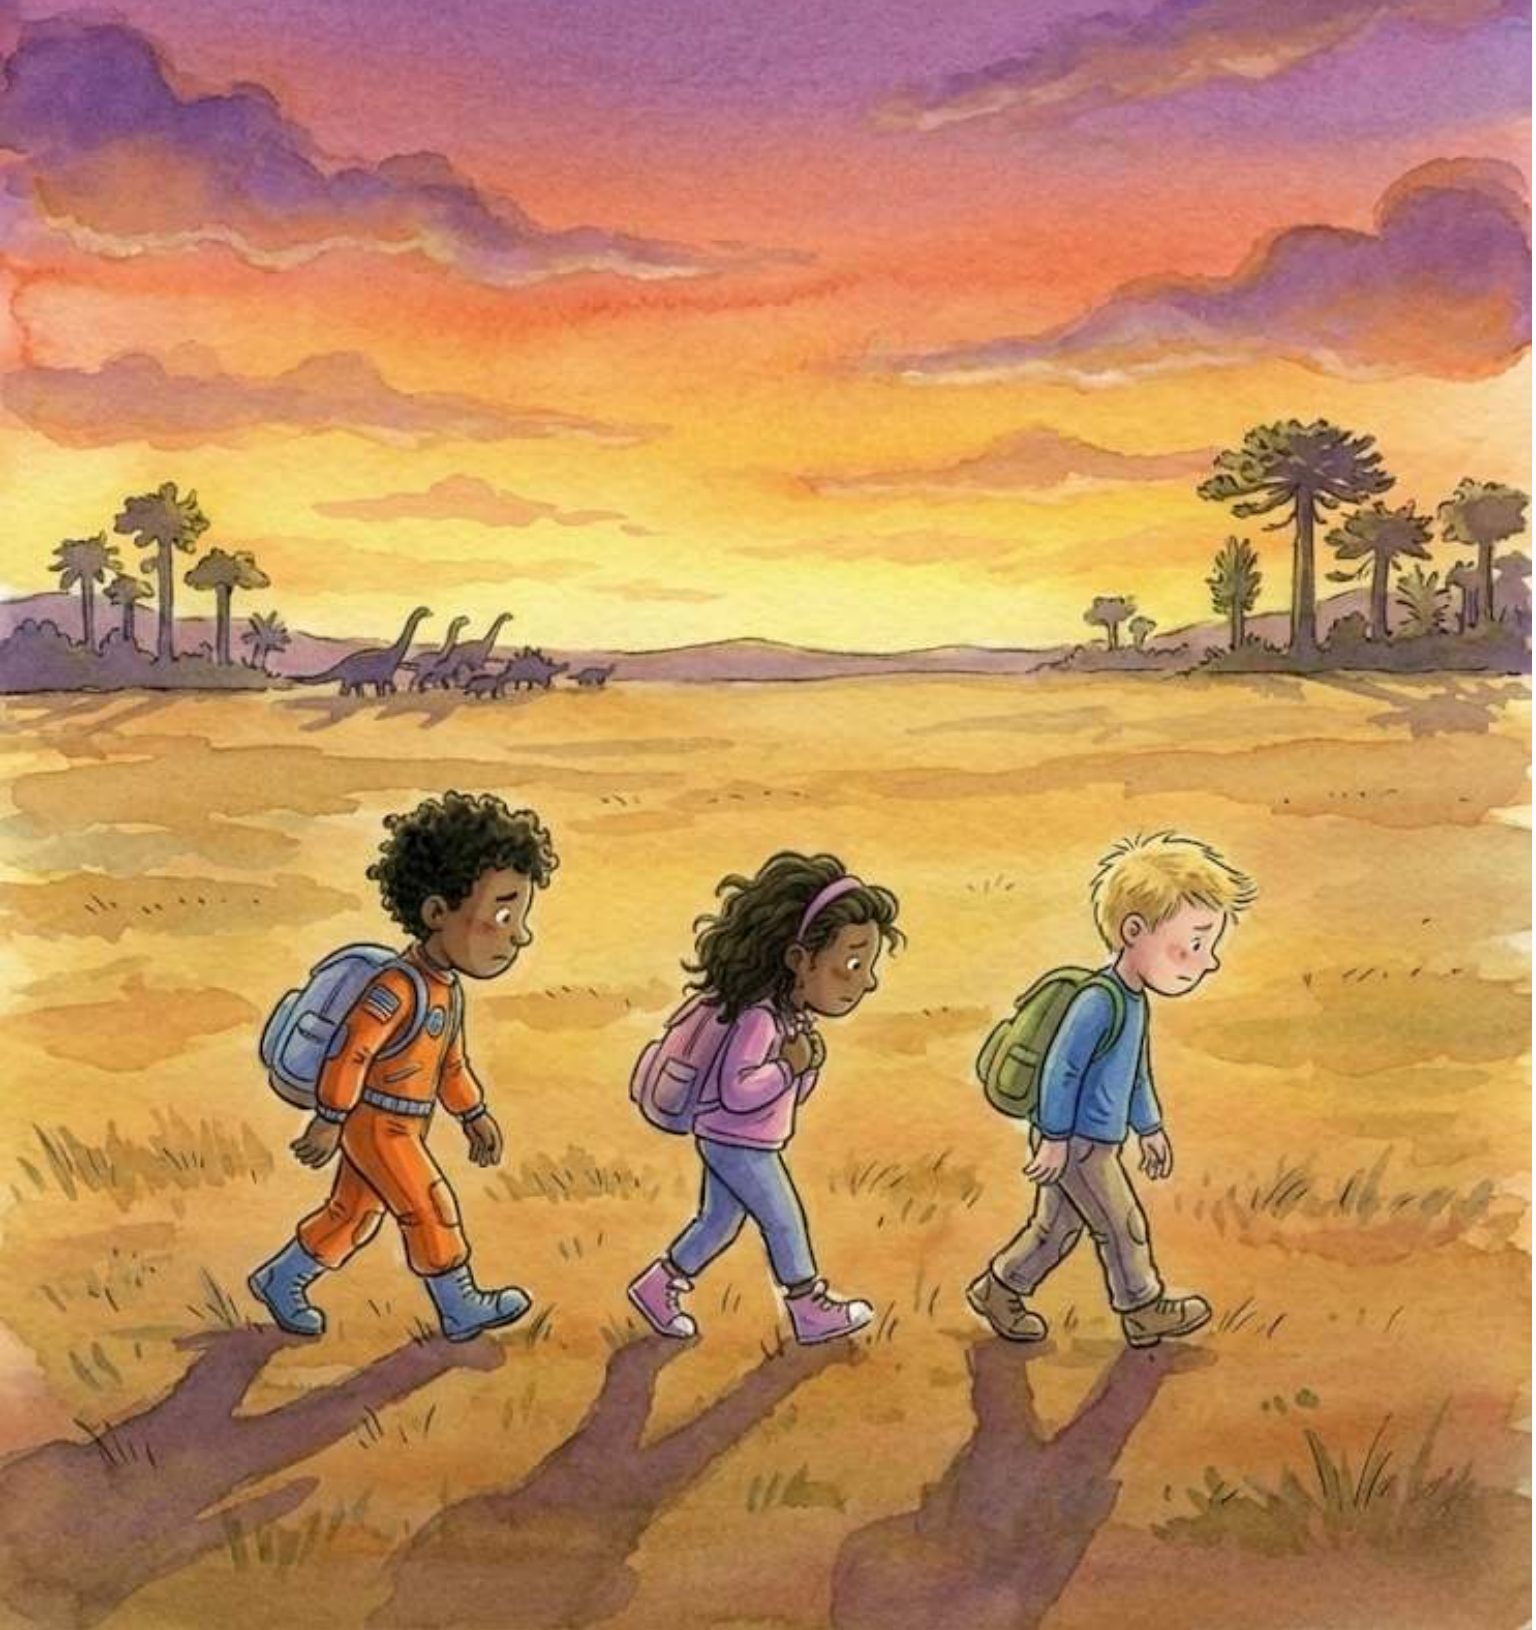

DANGER! Bright orange lava bubbles at the very top. POP! SIZZLE! BOOM! Ash and smoke billow out! Chief Explorer Matias signals for a quick landing ASAP!

Dive! Dive! We land safely away from the hot zone on soft grass. The ground shakes a little, but we are safe and sound. That was too close for comfort! EVERYONE SAY PHEW!

The prehistoric sun is setting, painting the sky purple and orange. What a day! Our legs are tired from all the STOMPING and running. It is time to head back before it gets dark.

Log Entry: Base Camp located just ahead. We made it! Chief Explorer Matias leads the team back to the time pod. We unzip our boots and shake out the prehistoric dirt.

Let's review the mission data! We saw giant footprints and made a T-Rex friend. We flew high in the sky and dodged an exploding volcano! This was the best expedition ever! HOORAY!

Final Log Entry: Mission complete. Everyone is buckled in. Closing the chrono-hatch. Get ready for time-jump home in 3... 2... 1... ZAP! Until next time, brave Dino-Explorers!
